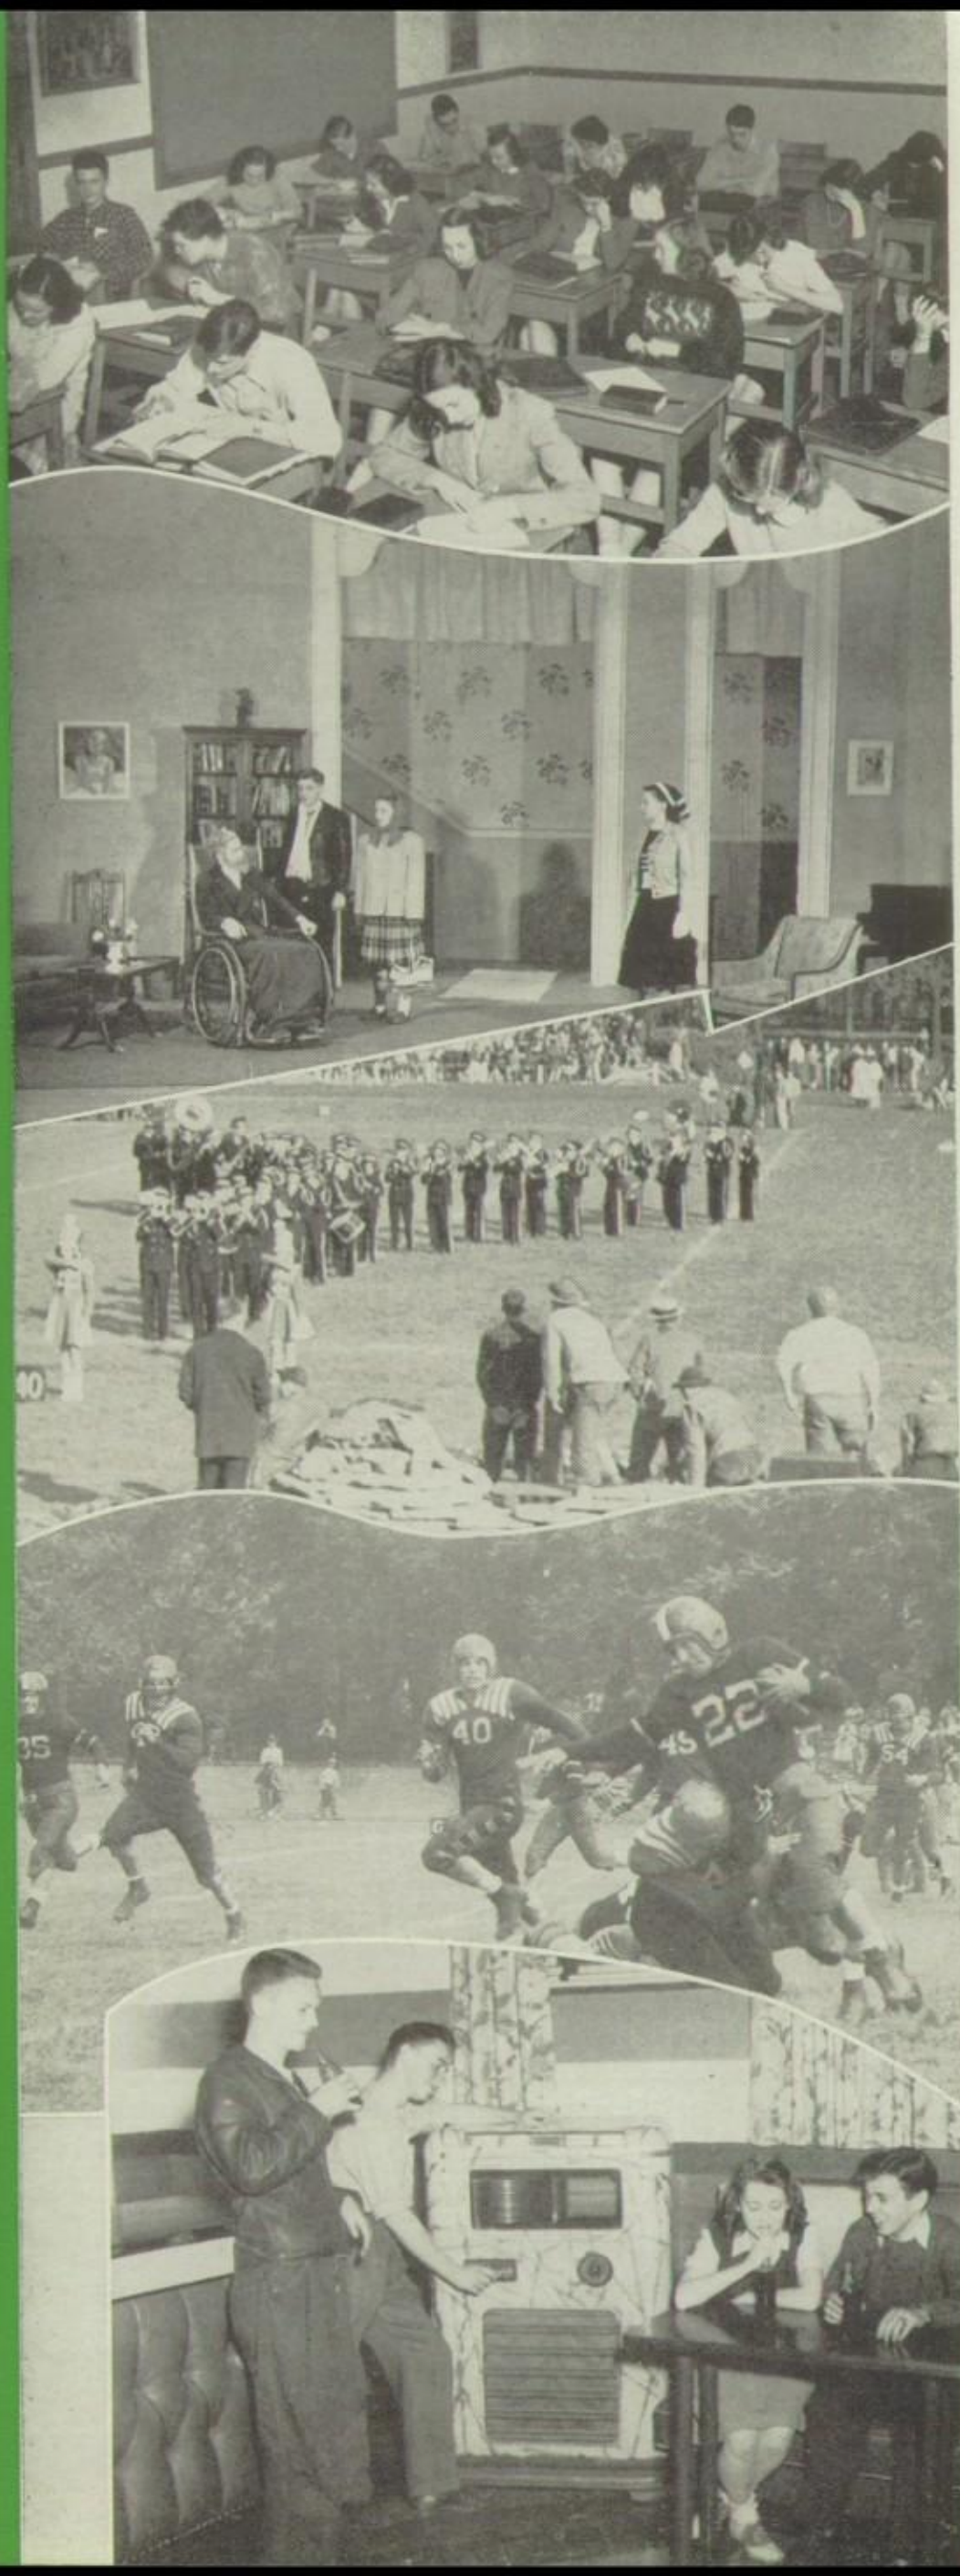
Many Scenes in Our Sentimental Journey

The inside of York will be exposed to you in this pictorial journey through the year's activities. Stops of importance tell tales of a conference and regional champion basketball team, the return of teachers from service, the recreational functions of numerous clubs, and scores of other memories which will remain with us. At times it has been smooth riding; then again we have been besieged by discouraging bumps. All in all, we take it in stride as an impressive period in the journey through life.

Scenic Charm of York's Campus Impresses Sightseers

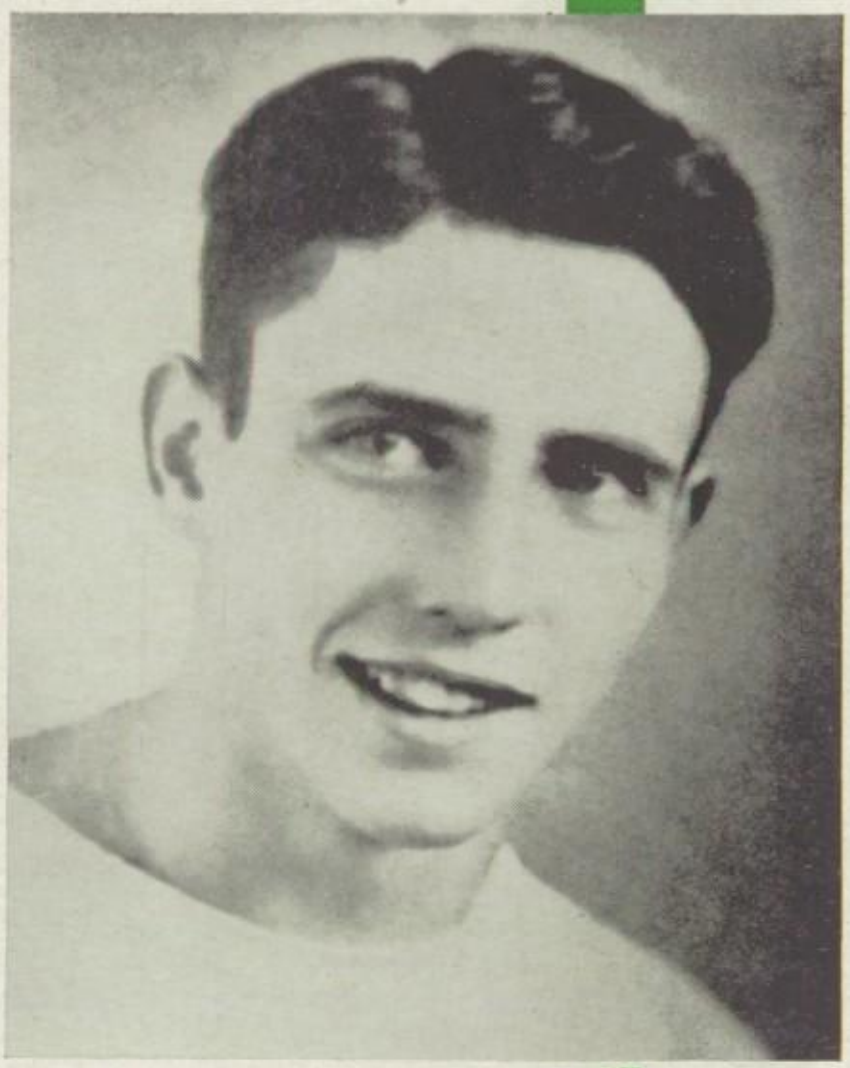


The 1947 Y's Tales is a Cook's Tour of York Events

Across the campus, through the halls, and among the classrooms of York have passed the fond memories of many a school year. The purpose of our book is to record these memories so that in years to come you may relive those "bygone days of high school." On some future date, such things as Junior Proms, class plays, and football games will be no longer vital things in life, but only dim, dear visions of the past. If then you turn these pages and dream of pleasant things, we shall be content.

Many familiar faces and events encountered during your York career are captured on the pages of this, the 1947 Y's Tales, and we sincerely hope that our memory tour will meet with your approval. Thus, without further ado and with all passengers aboard, let us leave the station and be on our way!

Dedication



All York was saddened by the tragic death of Dick Lithgow following injuries received in a lightweight football game. A junior this year, Dick had played football in his sophomore year and basketball as a freshman. In his freshman year he served on the Assembly Committee, and the next year he worked on publicity for the Soph Play.

The students of York reverently dedicate to his memory this, our 1946-47 yearbook.

Dr. Tozier Points Out Path Of Our Trip Through York

"The future holds greater achievements for York," prophesies Doctor Roy B. Tozier. Although he is deeply interested in present day affairs, Dr. Tozier anticipates a progressing York. He has great ambitions for the Student Council, which, he feels, "has within it the seeds for student experience in democracy which probably no other type of activity can give. The Student Council must grow!" He hopes the time will come when York will have a more effective guidance program, perhaps related to health courses. Always interested in sports, he wants to include swimming in future physical educational programs. In his long range planning he sees a larger cafeteria and library and a new science laboratory.

Board of Education

Representing the citizens of the school district is York's Board of Education, composed of the people pictured at the right: C. A. Richards, president; Mrs. Paul A. Royer, secretary; William C. Kane, member; E. W. Heimert, member; and Dr. Arthur G. Adams, member. The Board's job is to keep the electorate happy and at the same time to administrate the school efficiently. The Board of Education's achievements are evident in the school's progress.

The Deans

This is one man around York whom you don't like to meet on official business. Mr. Roy DeShane greets you when you are late, checks up on you when you have taken a day off, and then welcomes you in detention. Mr. DeShane, in addition to being Assistant Principal and Dean of Boys, has charge of the Student Testing Program, and he is the one who plans and organizes the schedules and activities.

Mrs. Ethel Wall, Dean of Girls, is an indispensable member of the faculty. She devotes her time to helping girls adjust personal and scholastic problems. Her pet project is the Girls' Club, which has become one of the most popular clubs at York.

Efficient Office Force Endures the Trials of York

Lost: one report card! If you have had this pleasant experience or some similar mishap, you probably have dashed to that well beloved and cozy corner—the office. There you encountered several of the lovely little ladies pictured on this page. Seated in the upper left hand photo is Miss Dorothy Kunesh, attendance clerk, who checks up on you when you have neglected to attend study hall or class. Neglecting her duties for a moment is that busy girl, Miss Barbara Schaefer, who provides us with all mimeographed specimens such as semester exams and six-weeks tests.

Featured at the upper right are Mrs. Bernice Anderman and Miss Doris Danielson. Mrs. Anderman is Secretary to the Board of Education, and she adeptly handles all school funds and finances. In addition to being Dr. Tozier's secretary, Miss Danielson edits that familiar news sheet known as The Bulletin.

No travel log of York would be complete without mention of Mr. Robert Kerr, lower left, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds. Although he is always occupied with his regular duties (lockers to sound system), "Bob" always finds time to enliven our days with his sly wit.

Remember Mrs. Margaret Moorehead, lower right, to whom you gave your greenbacks for the scholarly commodities of the book store? Pictured with Mrs. Moorehead is Miss Ann Sielaff, Registrar. She is the guardian of all our records such as those red and black characters known to us as "grades."

Y's Student Council Steers Us Through Another Year

With its successful launching and maiden voyage behind it, York's Student Council continued its expedition into democracy and student government. Organized and operated by interested students, the Student Council acts as a coordinating agency, a link between the clubs, student body, and the administration.

Looking back upon its performance this year, we find that the Student Council deserved its name in lights more than once. Remember those swell talent shows we had from Maine and Glenbard? Who arranged the exchange assembly program? You guessed it—the Student Council. It also presented the honor assembly and took charge of the Intramural Program. Working hand in glove with the P.T.A., the Student Council helped put on that fun frolic known as the Mardi Gras. This year for the first time York welcomed the Conference of the Student Councils of our neighboring schools.

Perhaps you noticed a lull in the usual running, shoving, and shouting in York's halls along in February. Yes sir, the Student Council did it again by instituting a novelty called "Courtesy Week." Lunch permits were done away with as the Student Council worked out a new lunch system based on student cooperation. Thanks to the Student Council we were given new privileges in return for assuming a few responsibilities.

ACTIVITIES

Staff Struggles Strenuously to Finish Before Deadline

The Y's Tales staff can be found every seventh period in Room 239 trying like mad to get various projects completed before deadlines. "Various projects" means taking and finishing photographs, writing stories for the pages, checking name spellings, writing picture captions, thinking up headlines that fit the allotted space, typing, proofreading, and so on endlessly. Besides the production work there is the art staff laboring away in Room 400 under Miss Johnson's eye, and the business staff working after school.

The editor is charged with coördinating production work. This is divided into five departments, each headed by a chairman. The Administration Committee handles the opening section and pages devoted to principal, board of education, faculty, deans, and staff employees. The School Committee organizes the group photographs of the underclassmen and checks the spellings of the names. The pages portraying clubs and organizations and the miscellaneous snapshots are the responsibility of the Activities Committee. The Senior Committee arranges the senior portraits and collects the information about the extra-curricular activities of seniors during their years at York. The Sports Committee writes up the sagas of York's teams and makes up the pages devoted to athletics.

In addition to the five production committees there are two student photographers who take about half the pictures appearing in the book. This year's photographers, Chet Herne and Bill Meehan, are two of the busiest people on the staff, going here and there at all times of day and night recording the year's events with the staff camera. Much of their time is spent in the darkroom processing the pictures which they have taken.

1947 Marks Sixth Issue of New Series of Y's Tales

The art staff of Y's Tales, under Miss Johnson's direction, turns out the art work for the yearbook. The division pages this year were done with the air brush which the art department acquired last spring. The art staff also does the clever pen-and-ink sketches which decorate many of the pages. High production costs this year forced us to reduce the number of these small drawings as compared with recent books. The artists this year came to the rescue by trimming the 360 senior portraits which appear in this edition.

The business staff workers keep an individual record for each student who purchases a copy of Y's Tales. They receive payments from those students who buy their books outside the Activity Plan and keep track of students who leave school and want their books mailed to them. These accounts are kept according to home-room groupings. One of the biggest jobs of the business staff comes in the spring when the 1,300 books are delivered from the bindery. The staff has the responsibility of distributing the books through home rooms and of getting an exact record of who has and has not received a book.

Although Mr. Morgan, the director of this marvelous organization, has been in charge of yearbooks since their publication was resumed in 1941-42, he finds that it is anything but a monotonous task. He can be found at any time conferring with editor Art Rohn, the committee chairmen, or the photographers, or in the midst of a swarm of staff members with all sorts of questions flying thick and fast.

The staff hopes that they have given you a yearbook that will always be a pleasure to turn to in future years—a graphic review of York in 1946-47.

The National Honor Society, sponsored by Mrs. Larson, is a club to which most of the ambitious students of York strive to become eligible.

The members of this club are elected because of their scholastic standing, leadership and service. Students are rated by their fellow students and the faculty.

This year the club sponsored the football dance and gave a faculty tea at Christmas time. They also usher at all non-athletic school events.

The National Honor Society is one of York's busiest clubs.

Enthusiastic Journalists Strive for Quill and Scroll

OFFICERS: Roberta Eddy, President; Marilyn Mueller, Vice President; Marilyn Omundson, Student Council Representative; and Laura Lee Grant, Secretary-Treasurer.

Quill and Scroll, the goal of all York journalists, is an international honorary society. Like all honorary clubs, Quill and Scroll has its own rigid qualifications. Besides doing superior work in editing, business management, art work, or writing, a student must rank in the upper third of his class. Members elected from the York-Hi writing staff must have had forty-five inches of material printed in the newspaper. Since it is impossible to measure material written for Y's Tales in terms of inches, yearbook workers are elected on the basis of hours of work, quality of performance, and ability to assume responsibility. Members from both publications are chosen for work in business management, editing, and art work.

This year the organization took in senior members at the end of the first semester to give them opportunity in the Quill and Scroll contests. One of the highlights of the year was a trip to the plant of a Chicago newspaper.

The organization is sponsored by Miss Eleanor Davis.

The home of all staff members, Room 223, has had many new improvements this year. Among them are sixteen new mail boxes for filing and keeping all of those editorials straight. Boxes for cuts have also been placed conveniently in the room. Although the room often seems like Brookfield Zoo's monkey house, a superior newspaper has been turned out every other Thursday during the school year. The newspaper display in the library was another of this capable organization's work.

Georgia Dewey, editor, is to be given highest congratulations for her faithful leadership this year.

One Hundred Staff Members Create Our York-Hi

See that girl over there! She's a York-Hi reporter. Yes, I know she looks tired, rushed and sort of dizzy, but notice the happy smile on her face. You know, she really has something to be proud of. It takes a lot of time and effort to put out such a super paper as the York-Hi. Why, just this year the York-Hi received another Quill and Scroll International Honor Award. The staff published fourteen eight- to ten-page issues, and their Christmas issue was sixteen pages thick. Miss Davis, the director, stated just the other day that the entire staff numbers about one hundred people.

The York-Hi supports the P.T.A. and the Student Council. The paper tries to interpret the student body to the administration and vice-versa. It also lets the community know what York students are doing and thinking about.

"Gonna Take a Sentimental Journey" Was Band's Theme

The Concert Band, under the excellent leadership and direction of Mr. Chopp, is quite a versatile organization. In addition to its regular study of concert and symphonic music, it constitutes the marching band, basketball band, and football band. The band supplies music for many assemblies and presents three concerts: the Fall Concert, the Spring Concert, and the Mother's Day Concert.

The annual Fall Concert was presented on December 6, 1946. The selections were popular, classical, and modern. The highlights of the performance were Richard Wagner's "Wotan's Farewell" from Die Walküre; Tschaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite"; the stirring "Finlandia," by Sibelius; and the overture to Hansel and Gretel, by Humperdinck.

As this page is being written, the band is anxiously awaiting the biggest event in its history, a tour through Wisconsin. The members will leave on three chartered busses on April 21 and go until April 25.

Not all of the hospitality in the United States is south of the Mason-Dixon Line, according to the students in charge of making arrangements. Cudahy, South Milwaukee, Kohler, Sheboygan, Appleton, Oshkosh, and Madison all sent enthusiastic assurances that hearty welcomes were in store for the musicians.

The expenses of the tour are to be defrayed in part by a benefit dance, the "Tour Trot," for which the P. T.A. is sponsoring ticket sales.

The York orchestra, under the excellent leadership of Mr. Chopp, does its share in entertaining the student body at plays and assemblies. It has been advancing rapidly in the past three years, since it now has a regular class period in which to practice.

The orchestra members may earn awards just as the members of other music organizations do. Major and minor letters are awarded on the basis of the number of performances participated in and the general interest shown, while four four-year pins are awarded to those who had served in the orchestra for four years.

The orchestra rendered its share of music at the annual fall concert on December 6, 1946. It played the first and second movements from Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, the Anvil Chorus from "Il Trovatore," the Quartet from "Rigoletto," and the Sextet from "Lucia di Lammermoor" by Donizetti.

Music Club Successfully Shows Way to Song and Dance

The good old Music Club was first started in the halls of York in 1939, under the able supervision of C. Eldon Harris. It has now risen to the goal of every club in York—that of being one of the leaders and having one of the largest enrollments.

This year the Music Club gave "Rose Room," their annual fall dance. The gym was bedecked with pink and white streamers, giving the gym a delightful atmosphere for dancing.

Other activities the club sponsored were a concession stand at the Hallowe'en Party, selling taffy apples and apple cider to those who wanted them; and going downtown to see the musical production, "Sweethearts." This kind of entertainment was enjoyed by one and all who were lucky enough to belong to the Music Club.

Math Club Creates Interest In Math Outside of Class

A comparatively new club at York is the Math Club, begun in the spring of 1945.

A "Problem of the Month" is presented at each meeting for members to solve. At the end of the year, the member who has the most correct solutions is awarded a prize.

The club's social calendar features a hay ride party and a picnic in the late spring.

Requirements for membership are a semester of plane geometry and an "A" or "B" average in all math taken at York. Any students who have completed a major in mathematics are also eligible for membership. Miss Heinemann is sponsor of the club.

This year marked the fourteenth season of Drama Night by the York Troupe of the National Thespian Dramatic Society. This event was held December 19th under the direction of Miss Doris E. White.

The three one-act plays included Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," as arranged by George M. Baker; "Riders to the Sea," a play by John Millington Synge about the Irish mother whose fishermen sons are all claimed by the sea; and "The Romancers," a romantic comedy by Rostand. This comedy, in Barrett H. Clark's translation from the French, was highly amusing.

This year's performance proved itself to be no exception to the rule that Drama Night is well staged and well acted. Although the production of the plays is much work, the Thespians will agree that it is every bit as enjoyable for them as for the audience.

York Thespians Again Display Histrionic Ability

York's Thespian troupe number ninety-four is a national dramatic society. It is open to all students dramatically inclined. Candidates for membership (they must be either Sophomores or Juniors), make tryouts and then serve a year's apprenticeship. Those who obtain enough merits by engaging in dramatic work, either acting or production, during this time are warranted an honorable appointment.

A full member is eligible to wear the Thespian pin, which is one of the most attractive pins worn by York students. The design represents the two types of masks worn by Greek actors: the serious face of tragedy, and the Dafa laughing face for comedy. The two golden images are separated by a blue "T". Also of gold is the guard showing a wreath encircling an "N" standing for "National."

Second only to Drama Night is the annual trip to Chicago to see a professional production. This year on January 22, the enthusiastic Thespians saw Gertrude Lawrence in Shaw's "Pygmalion."

Other outstanding activities of the Thespians are: a dinner for the apprentice members held in November, and the Spring initiation of those who have completed their apprenticeship

The Ludi Romani Recalls Ancient "Play Day" Customs

Around December, Room 113 is usually bustling with activity. Preparations are being made for the "Cena Romana" or the Roman Banquet. At this affair guests dressed in the garb of old Rome get a glimpse of ancient customs. Before eating, they are crowned with laurel wreaths. Slaves (freshmen boys) serve at this impressive candlelit feast.

The girls' gym, where the affair takes place, is decorated with statues. For entertainment, sophomore girls as Vestal Virgins enact a candlelight ceremony. Freshman girls perform the graceful dance of the water carriers, dressed in costumes of Roman maidens.

The Ludi Romani, put on by the freshmen members of the Latin Club, features contests between classes. Some of these contests are javelin-throwing, gladiatorial combats and chariot racing.

All the students in Latin 10, 11, and 12 are eligible for membership. Freshmen with an average of "A" for their first semester are initiated into the club. The average membership is sixty-five. Mrs. Larson and Miss Howe are co-sponsors of the club.

Berndt Makes Merry at German Club Meetings

CENTER: Officers: Barbara Palmer, Treasurer; Lawrence Tilly, President; and Lois Mueller, Secretary. Not pictured is Ken Dunnivant, Vice President.

LOWER LEFT: Members with the mascot: Richard Mueller, Fred Schultz, Berndt, Betty Caldwell, and Judy O'Brien. Guess which is the mascot.

Achtung! Machen Sie die Tür zu! Silence fills the great hall of Room 118. The doors swing shut. No, it's not a pro-Nazi movement coming up for a rally, but simply a meeting of one of the most unusual and delightful clubs at York—the German Club.

Fräulein Evjen (Miss Evjen to you) is the sponsor of the club, and once again she has led the group through a happy year of varied activities. Miss Evjen has had the invaluable services of Berndt, the dachshund club mascot, in keeping the club attendance high.

The members of the club by no means give all their attention to the language. They learn much of the customs and habits of the German people, thus aiding in a fuller understanding of that nation.

Membership is open to all students who are taking German and have passed the first semester and to any upperclassman who has taken a year or more of the language.

Faculty Gets Brush-Off at German Club Kaffee Klatsch

At last someone has given our illustrious faculty the brush-off! As they entered the cafeteria, they were greeted by a little man with a brush who immediately proceeded to sweep their clothes vigorously. No sooner was he finished than another boy with a shoe-shine kit came dashing up and gave their shoes a dazzling gleam.

All this, plus delicious food and typical German folk songs made the annual Kaffee Klatsch its usual success. The music was provided by a German band whose members were in costume. An additional att action was Berndt, the club's dachshund mascot.

Typical German costumes are worn at these affairs, and this year daisies and sunflowers were predominant on the halters and caps of the members.

The bouncers were kept busy throwing out hungry yearbook staff workers whose frantic work to finish on deadline had kept them slaving in Room 239 without their suppers.

The German Club's Kaffee Klatsch, it is agreed by all, is an entertaining way of illustrating some of the German folkways and customs.

Latin Americas Are Chief Interest of Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, York's oldest organization, is sponsored by Mr. Michelsen. Although organized twenty-six years ago, its purpose is still the same: to further interest in the Spanish language and Latin American countries. Membership in the club is restricted to Spanish students only.

A pin is awarded to students who have earned twenty-two points. The highest award, a guard, is given to students who earn forty points. Points are earned by taking part in programs, planning future meetings, donating refreshments for parties, and by being an officer of the club.

The biggest event of the year is the Christmas Party, observed in typical Spanish style. This includes the knocking down of the piñata, a gaily decorated bag filled with candy, by a blindfolded member. When the bag is broken the other members scramble to get their share.

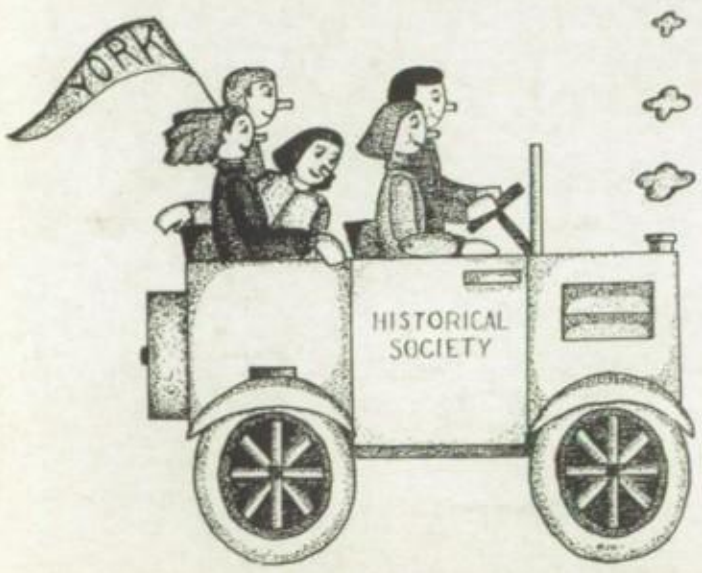
Students Continually Look Forward to Field Trips



This society was organized under the able leadership of Mr. Maclear and Mr. Zacharias and was first started in York during the school year 1938-1939. In the society, one can learn more than is offered in our academic program in school proper! The club takes trips to various museums and to other places of historical interest.

To become a member of this society, one must be a senior with a full credit of American history or a junior after his first semester of that subject. Pins are awarded to the seniors who fulfill certain qualifications during their first two semesters of membership.

Every year, this society gives an assembly. This year it presented the Armistice Day-Education Week assembly program. Rogerta Dickinson's speech on Education and Phil Thorneycroft's report on how Armistice Day was first celebrated were among the finest orations we have had this year.

DISCUSSION GROUP: Seated: Joanne Tesh, Joanne Crane, Philip Randolph, Kay Philhour, and Dina Modjeska; Standing: John Ruprecht, Bob Plant, Kenneth Dunnivant, and Lucille Eddy.

Square-Table Formality Is Now Round-Table Informality

What's in a name? To the York Debate Club it means a lot! The club has not only changed its name but some of its principal characteristics. Under the title of York's Round Table, the members have decided to discontinue formal debating. Instead, the new group is organized to partake in round table discussions of current problems of general interest. Subjects include the race problem, world government and the role of the government in education and school problems.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. Royal Schmidt who has carried through in his second successful year as sponsor of the club. It is here, today, in clubs where boys and girls of high school age may freely discuss world problems, that the groundwork is laid for better "citizens of tomorrow!"

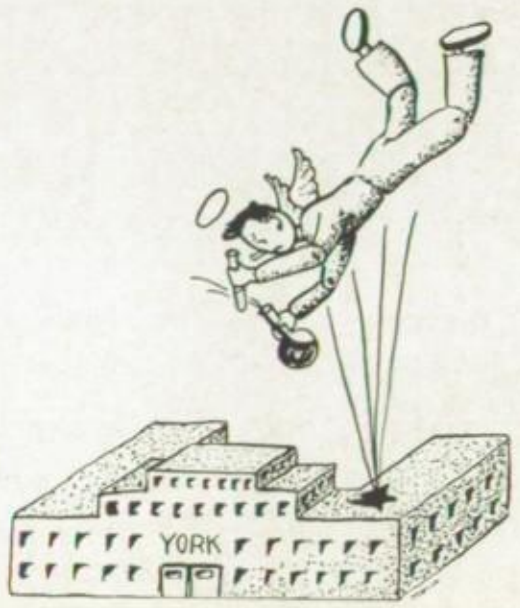
The Science Club is York's newest organization and has already gained popularity. The organization was formed to better the understanding of science for the members and to give them an opportunity to develop their own individual interests. Anyone having an interest in science may join the club.

Among the many activities of the group was their participation in the Mardi Gras by giving science demonstrations. Some of their interesting programs throughout the year included a talk on radiation detection and a demonstration of Motorola's wartime radio equipment.

Mr. Simpson is the Club's sponsor.



Peace Finds That Junior Red Cross Is Still Active

After VJ day the Red Cross Club did not stop its many activities. Now, in its second peace-time year, this club is still going strong!

Miss Hibbard, our genial nurse, is still their sponsor and has done much in organizing and putting the club on a working basis.

Once again the Red Cross sponsored the annual bangle-pin sale for the tuberculosis fund. A greater effort was made this year because half of the money collected is to be used to bring a mobile unit to Elmhurst. The other half will be donated to the tuberculosis fund as in previous years.

The climax of the Red Cross year was the Christmas season. All members worked busily on gift boxes that were sent overseas.

New Home Economics Club Motto Is "Toward New Horizons"

"Toward New Horizons," the motto of the York Home Economics Club, expresses the purpose of the organization—learning to live better today in order that our lives and those of our families may be better tomorrow.

The York Home Economics Club is a branch of the Future Homemaker of America, a national organization of girls studying homemaking in the high schools of the United States. The membership is open to any girl who is taking homemaking or has taken it.

The York Home Economics Club calendar has had a full year: initiation of new members, Christmas party, potluck supper, faculty tea; and once again the spring style show made a successful climax to the year's activities.

The Pep Club Pilots Pokey Pupils Down the Path of Pep

The Pep Club's annual bonfire, which is given every year on the eve of the Glenbard game, was a great success despite the fact that a cloudburst gave the fire some competition. The cheerleaders led a snake dance which went into town and through several of the local stores. The rain didn't dampen any spirits, however, and the next day we were rewarded by a victory over Glenbard.

The Pep Club has introduced several new cheers and two pep songs this year. They ran a concession at the Hallowe'en Dance and have had charge of the candy counters at many of the basketball and football games.

The Basketball Dance, an annual girl-ask-boy affair sponsored by the Pep Club, was given a week after the team played their last conference game which tied them with Glenbard for first place. It was a proper tribute to the work which the team did in securing our top conference standing.

Basketball Dance Celebrates First-Place Conference Tie

CHEERLEADERS: Joanne Harbron, Sue Larson, Bob Chapman, Nola Santi, and Betty Swanson.

OFFICERS: Joanne Harbron, Vice President; Demaris McDole, Treasurer; Carol McNulty, President; and Harriet Maechtle, Secretary.

The Pep Club this year is under the able direction of Miss Lampark. Although this is her first year as sponsor, she has brought in many new ideas to create interest in the club. One of the best of these was the school-wide search for new cheers, out of which came three good new yells. There has also been a much needed revival of interest in the singing of pep songs by the York boosters.

The Pep Club had their annual concession at the Hallowe'en Dance, adding to the success of that lively affair. In addition, those ambitious people you see working behind the refreshment counter at basketball and football games are likely as not to be Pep Club girls. No doubt about it—the club certainly lives up to its name!

Presentation of Awards Is Highlight of G. A. A. Year

The Girls' Athletic Association was formed for those girls whose interest in sports goes further than "classroom" interest. As far as this is concerned, their goal has been reached! Membership is open to any girl who wants to take part in after-school sports.

It isn't all play, though. The girls work hard for their letters presented at the end of the year. Points are made by participating in sports, attending meetings regularly, and keeping charts on health. Six hundred points are required for a local award in the freshman year, and one thousand two hundred points are needed in the sophomore year. Juniors earning one thousand six hundred points are awarded the State League Award and the State League Emblem.

The girls buy pins, and for each sport in which they pass written and skill tests they are given a gold bar. Each bar is a symbol of merit and is worn with honor.

York's G.A.A. is a member of the state organization. Every summer a few lucky girls are sent to represent their group at the G.A.A. camp on Lake Geneva.

The G.A.A. not only offers fun in high school but also prepares girls for good sportsmanship, co-operation, and physical fitness in later life.

G. A. A. Sponsors An Active Around-the-Year Program

Picture a smoldering campfire accompanied with a group of girls' soft voices while marshmallows are lazily turned over—um! Sounds wonderful, doesn't it? The scene is that of the annual G.A.A. picnic. Although this happens but once a year, every meeting is a "picnic" as far as the girls are concerned!

G.A.A. girls are far from inactive. Among others, their sports include basketball, volleyball, hockey, soccer, bowling, baseball, tumbling, archery and table tennis and hiking.

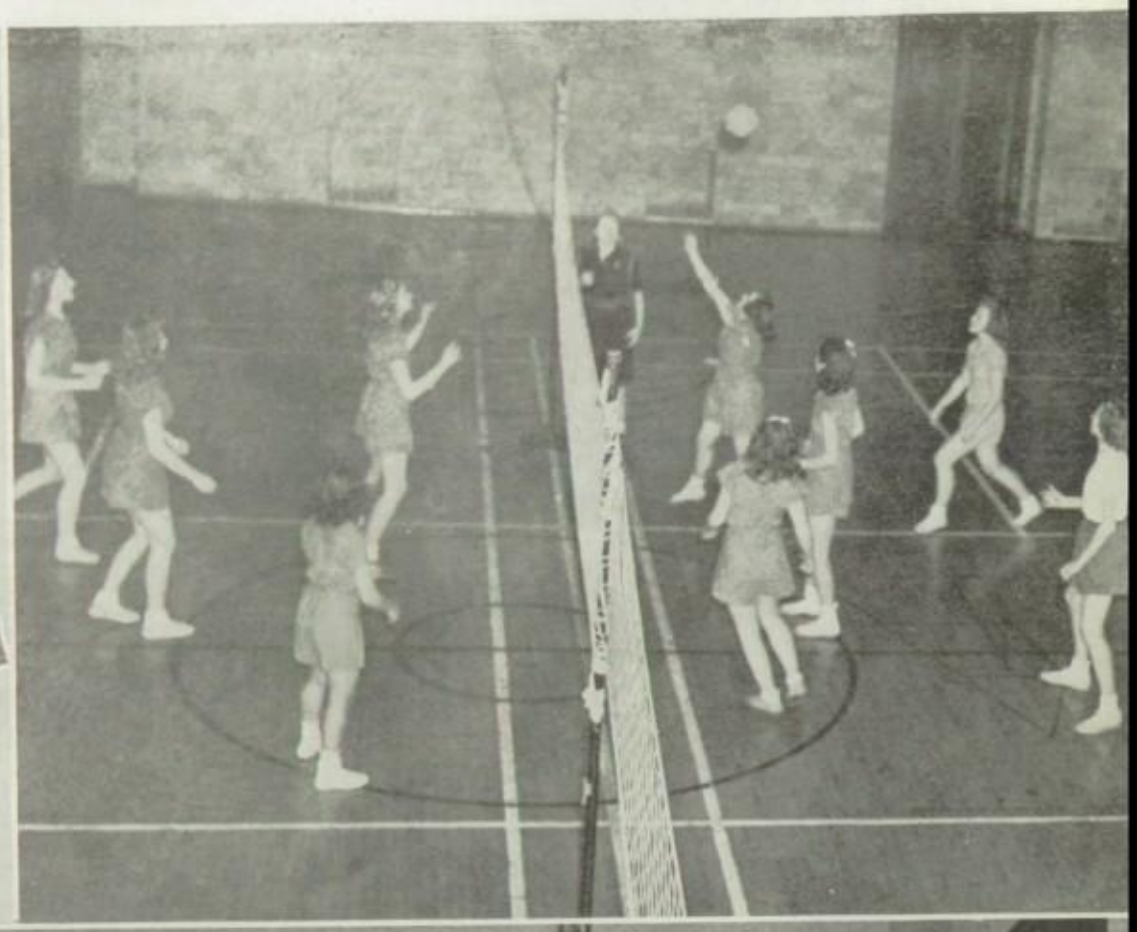
G. A. A. Common Meeting Place for Aspiring Athletes



Miss Skinner and Miss Homrighaus in their second year as sponsors have rounded out this organization, making it an honor to any school.

Bears might hibernate in the winter, but the G.A.A. doesn't! When the weather becomes too bad in the fall, the girls start on a round of their exciting indoor games; but at the first sign of spring, they're out again with baseball, track, and archery.

As far as school spirit is concerned, the G.A.A. is up there in first place! They not only originated Color Day, but have carried it through its second successful year.

For a well-rounded girl in personality and physical ability look towards the Girls' Athletic Association!

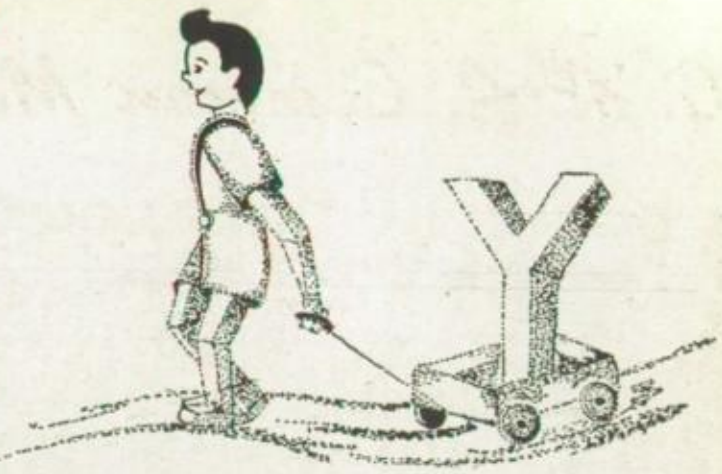
"Y's Guys" Yearn for Year-Round Action In All Sports



The York Lettermen's Club, formed three years ago, is sponsored by Mr. East. The membership is limited to boys who have won a major or minor letter in any sport. This includes boys who have earned manager letters. The primary aim of the club is to encourage good sportsmanship.

Among the activities sponsored by the organization was the hayride last fall. The boys assisted the Pep Club at the traditional annual bonfire. If you have noted that the gym floor has been unusually clear of late at basketball games, thank the Lettermen who have been acting as ushers.

OFFICERS: Jens Jantzen, President; Kenneth Seeck, Treasurer; and Jack Bales, Vice President.

Girls' Club Motto, "Service," Is An Able Adjective

The Girls' Club at York is now in its fourth year under the advisorship of Mrs. Wall. This club was designed to stimulate friendship among girls not only in our own high school, but in the neighboring schools. Because a girl is a member of the Girls' Club, she is a member of the Girls' Conference. Twenty-seven schools belong to this organization. Every spring there is a meeting to which representatives are sent. Questions of interest to the girls are discussed, and noted speakers are present.

UPPER LEFT: Officers. Marcella Chant, Secretary-Treasurer; Marilyn Hill, Student Council Representative; Carolyn Dornoff, President; and Lois McCracken, P.T.A. Representative.

LOWER RIGHT: Shirley Davis, June Martin, June McDonald, Nola Santi, Ann Bjorklund, Rogerta Dickinson, Janes Sykora, Susanne Schweppe, Pat Chant, Karen Jensen, Kirsten Jantzen, Audrey Fritz, Joan Havemann, and Carolyn Dornoff.

The club provides a "big sister" for every incoming freshman girl. The "big sisters" help their "little sisters" become acquainted with York. They also serve as guides on Freshman Day.

Bow Week highlights the year. It is not only colorful and gay, but it adds the spirit of class unity and good fellowship. This year, a prize was awarded to the freshman class for selling the most bows.

The girls have purchased glass plates and cups, two lace table cloths, two brass samovars, a pair of brass candle sticks, a brass bowl, an antique swinging chocolate pot, three glass sandwich plates, and are now waiting to purchase salad forks and teaspoons as soon as they are available.

The girls also sponsored the Hallowe'en Dance this year, which proved quite successful.

Stefani Steers Dukes Through Rough-and-Tumble Season

York's Dukes started off the football season by trouncing a good East Rockford eleven 26-14. The following week York lost a tough game to a heavier Elgin team by one touchdown (13-7). The Dukes lost their first conference game to Hinsdale by one point (14-13). That loss put York in a three-way tie for fourth place. York was the first team to score on the Maine eleven, but their inability to make the extra point cost them another one-point loss (7-6). The next York appearance was a night game at Chicago Heights. The Bloom High eleven didn't play the perfect host, though, because they overpowered York for three periods before the Drivin' Dukes got back on their feet. By that time it was too late, and the final score was 25-14.

York Misses A Tie For Championship By Three Points

Maybe it was due to the four previous defeats, or maybe it was the team they were playing; whatever the cause, York broke its losing spell and shut out Glenbard, the team they wanted to beat most, 6-0. Their winning spree was short-lived though, because the next game with Downers was lost by the heart-breaking score of 13-12. Smith of Downers ran 102 yards for the winning touchdown. This defeat put York in sixth place. Next York crushed Riverside 27-6.

The last game of the season brought York a smashing 18-0 defeat at the hands of LaGrange and put them in a three-way tie for fourth place.

The inability to make that one little point after the touchdown cost York a tie for first place, but Stefani's Steamers will be doing their best next season to make up for that.

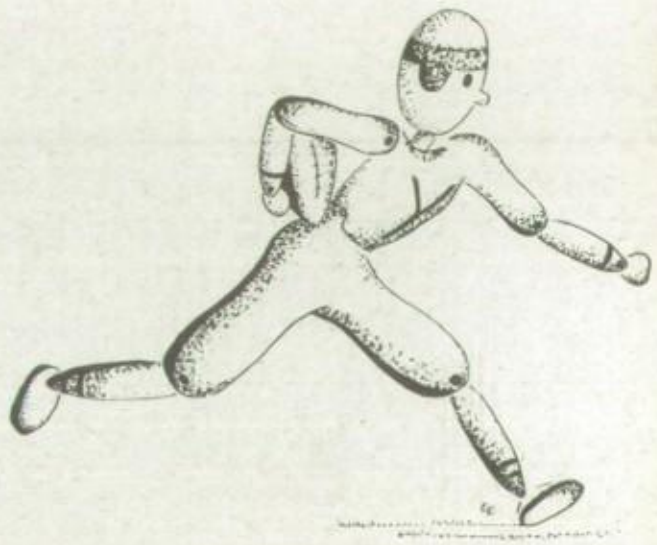
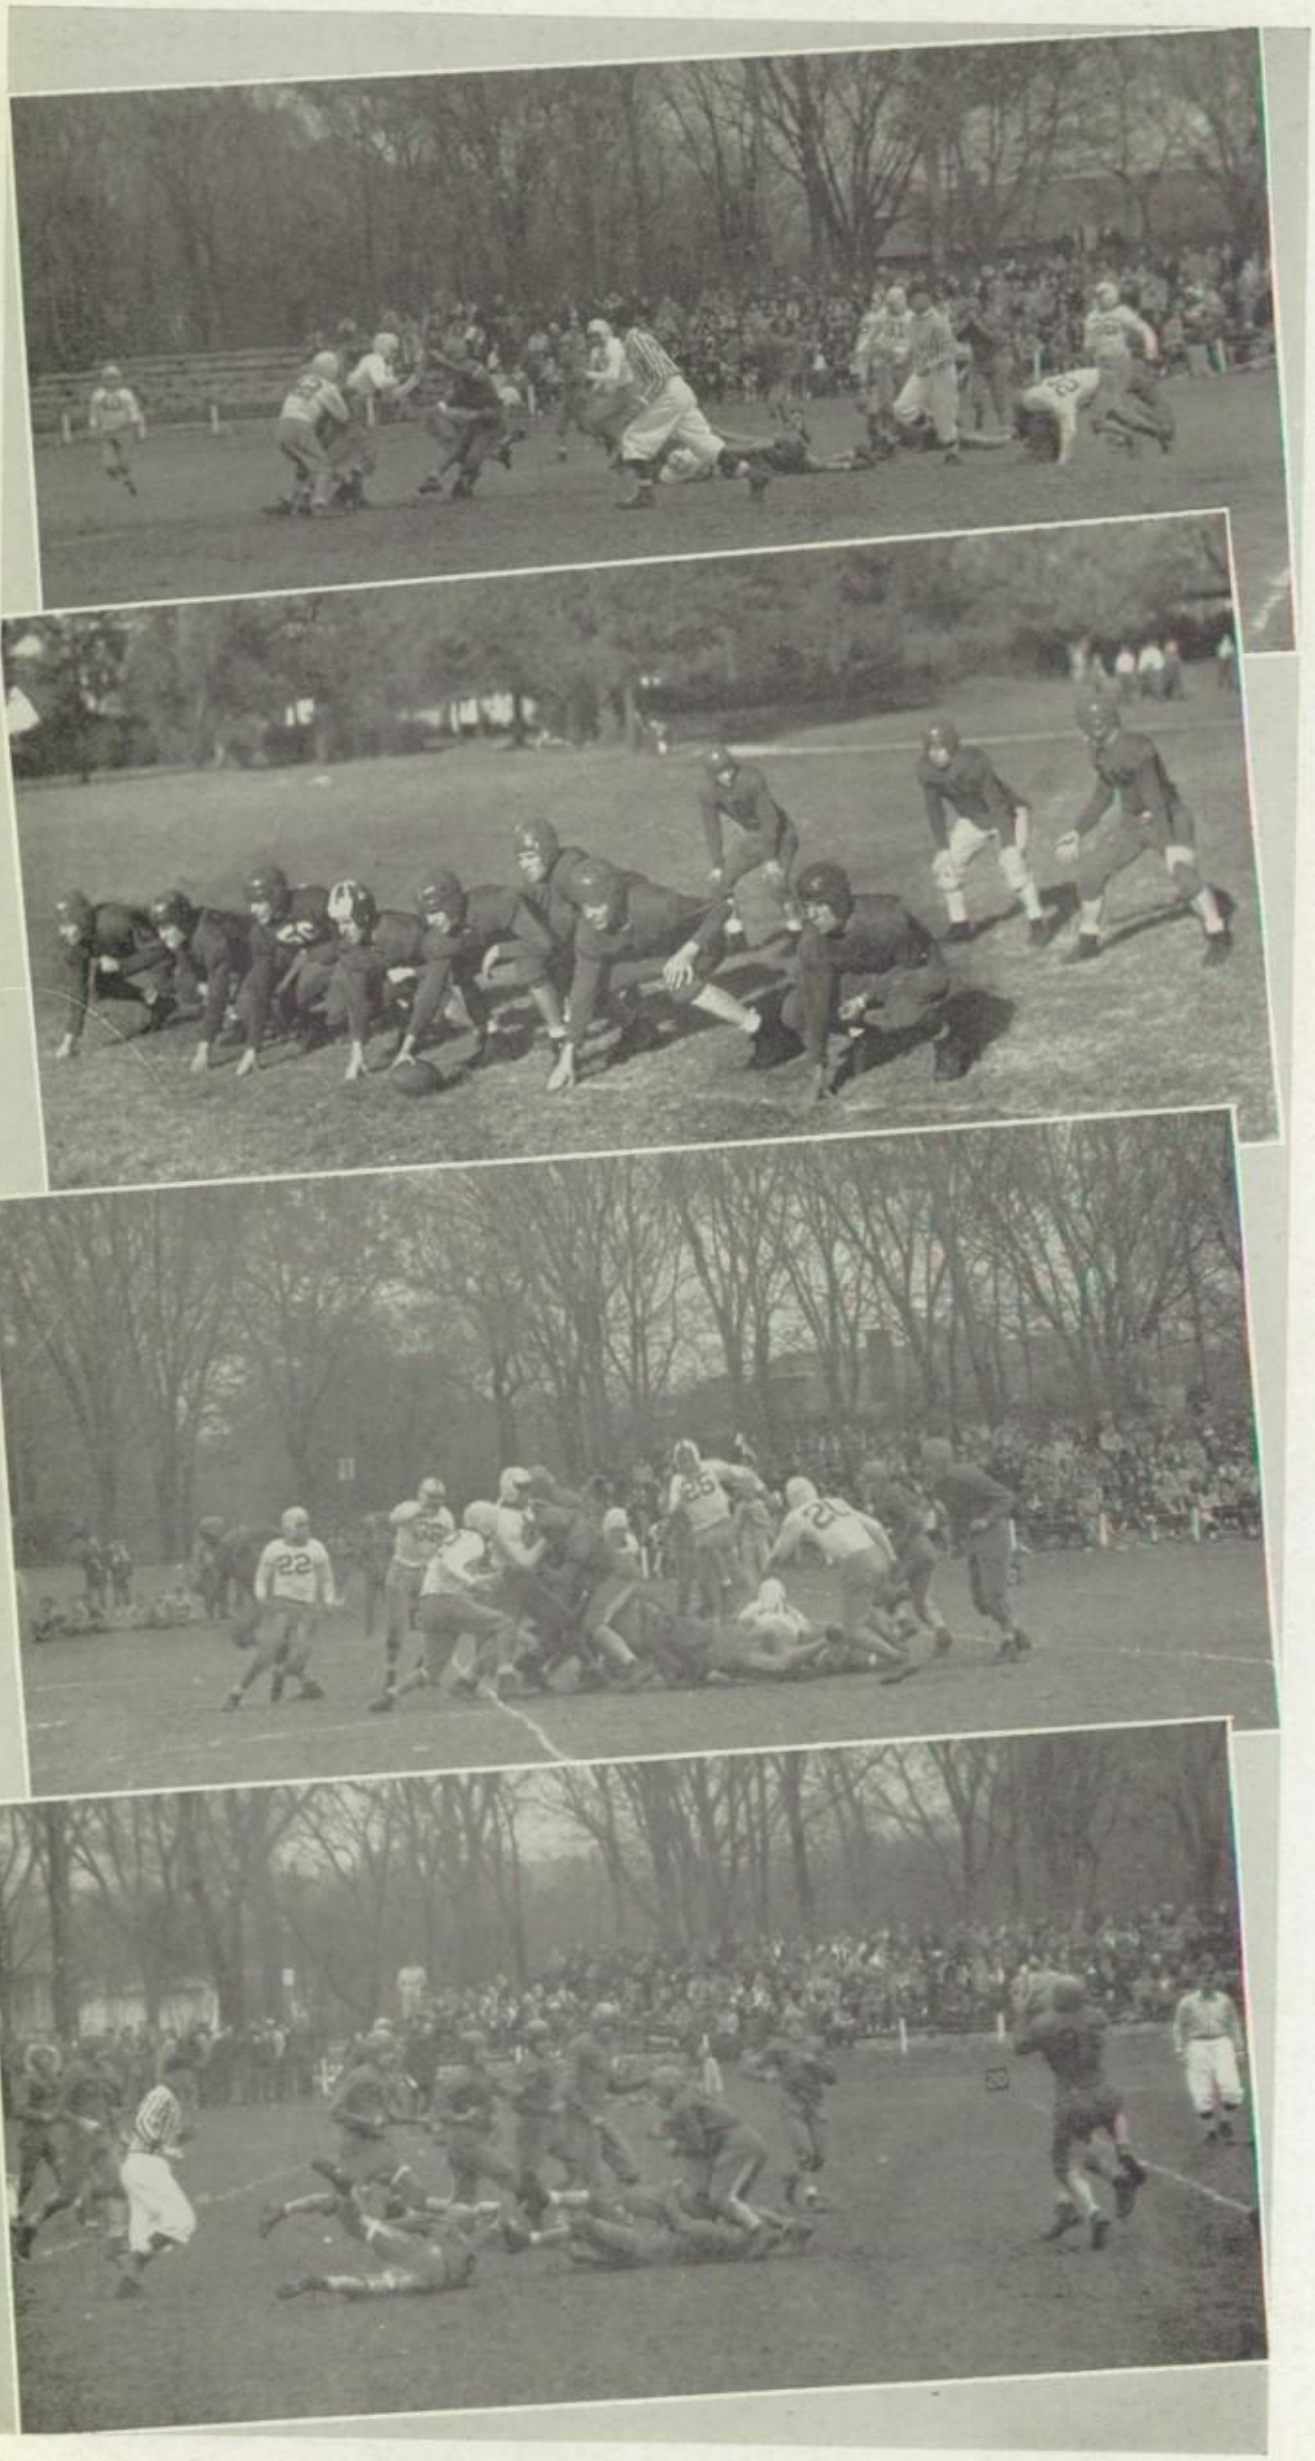
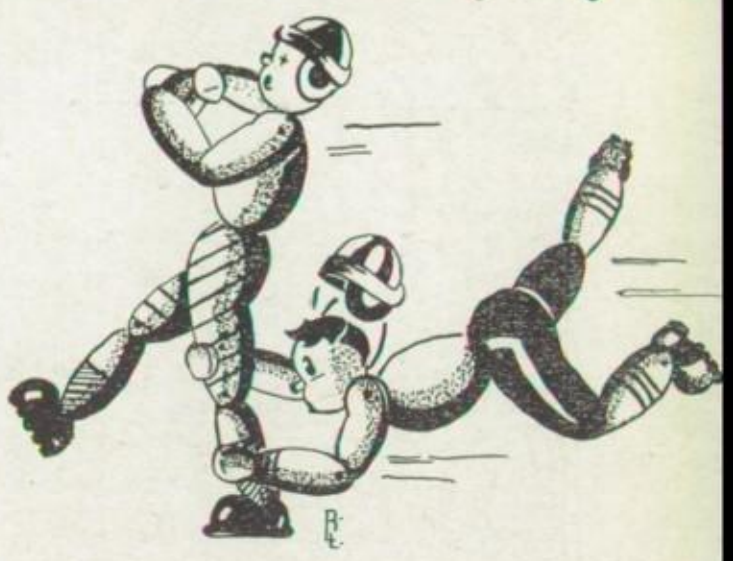
Gerlach Pilots Lightweights Through a Tough Season

With traditional spirit and tenacity the York lightweights of 1947 battled their way through a grueling season plagued by bad breaks and a small reserve. A terrific will-to-win coupled with Mr. Gerlach's able coaching put the Barons in the "win" column five times, with a balance of two games tied and one lost. Mr. Mahood also had a hand in molding the '47 squad into a formidable team; no small task when one considers that the Barons began the season with only three returning lettermen: Sauerman, Klaeren, and Jessen.



Though Often Outweighed, Barons Were Never Outfought





The lightweights began the season by nosing out a heavier East Rockford team, 7-6. The following week the Barons went to Elgin and shut out the home team, 7-0, under the lights. Hinsdale slowed the ponies down to a 7-7 tie, but Maine, who couldn't hit 'em with anything bigger than a "0," was topped by York's "usual" 7 points. When Glenbard came to town, the Barons put on the steam and beat their traditional rivals, 13-7. After the "mountain boys" were properly disposed of, York took on Downers and was snowed under 27-6. To make up for the "Downers disaster" the Barons ran all over Riverside (33-0). The lightweights finished off a successful season with another tie, this time a 6-6 draw with LaGrange. The Barons finished the season in third place in the West Suburban Conference.

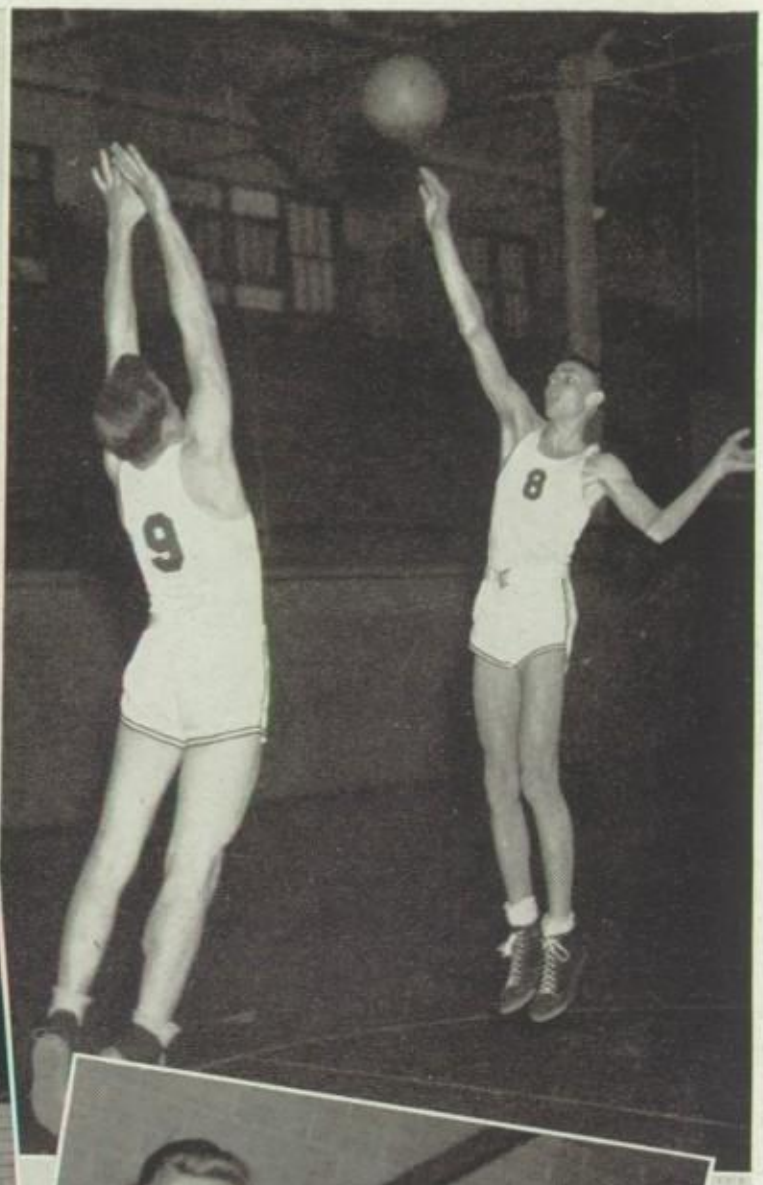
Going against tradition, the Frosh-Soph squad depended entirely upon a heavyweight team to uphold their reputation. There was a good nucleus of freshmen playing regularly this year and making ready for Frosh-Soph football again next year. The team showed the typical York playing spirit by winning six out of the eight games played during the season. Fifty boys finished the season. Their competent coach, Mr. Ferry, led them to victory and taught the fundamentals of football which will help them in future years to stand out on the varsity squads. Some of the outstanding players were Boyd MacKenzie, Norbert Kraegel, Gene Sisson, Fred Longnecker, Richard Stoltz, Richard Hovde, Jack Schweppe, Robert Pinnow, August Wirkus, Ed Ross, Allan Gray, and Byron Kolling.



York Barons Lose Tie for Championship By One Game

The Barons began the season with a group of good but inexperienced players and developed, under the watchful eyes of Mr. Ferry, into a fast, hard-hitting squad. Blessed with the speedy dribbling and accurate shooting of Dave Sweeney and Captain Bob Pettigrew, York was able to move down the floor and score with amazing accuracy. Fred "Fritz" Lindquist moved up from last year's third string and played through the whole season. His long shots and cool manner of playing was a great asset to the team. Chuck Jessen, who was first-string guard, was called to the bench early in the season because of a shoulder injury. Miles "Murph" Johnson stepped into his shoes and proved himself to be first-string material.

Bob Maples, the tall, lanky center, was York's main hope under the basket, both on rebounds and set shots. Bob was a definite factor in the Barons' taking second place. Three more Barons who saw action were Ray Fischer, Earl Smith, and Don Sauerman. Each one deserves a share of the credit which is given to this well balanced team.

York, Glenbard Heavies Share Conference Championship

Coach Forrest Birks returned from the war to guide York's 1947 heavyweight basketball squad to the conference and regional championships. He could not have had a finer group of boys to work with. Although George Orcutt, Dwight Winans, and "Sparky" Meyer, from last year's heavies, and Roger Steinberger and Carl Moeck, from the '46 lights, were the only experienced cagers available when the season began, Hank Tiedemann and Frank Mitter soon developed into "first string" material.

Looking back on the '47 season, we remember Frank Mitter for his beautiful long shots and nonchalance; Roger Steingraber for his polished technique and defensive skill; Hank Tiedemann for his speed and amazing "left-handed-hook" shots; Captain George Orcutt for his sportmanship and versatility; Dwight Winans for his perfect form and keen alertness; Joe Turyna for his tenacity; and "Sparky" Meyer for his smart under-the-basket strategy. The rest of the boys all deserve a lot of credit for helping to put the Dukes on top.

Collectively a great team, individually a swell bunch of guys, the 1947 heavyweight squad deserves all the credit we can give 'em!

York Cross Country Team Again Second In Conference

The York cross-country team repeated last year's performance and again took second place in the Conference. Mr. Heinhorst, who left York to join the Army, came back and led the team to victory in every preliminary meet. In the Conference-District Meet York ran second, while La Grange took first. York did not attend the Proviso Invitational, because it interfered with the harriers' schedule.

York did not meet La Grange during the regular season, since the La Grange game was the day of the Conference meet. However, Warren Dreutzler lived up to expectations, and came in first in the Conference meet, which was held on the Glenbard course. In all the preliminary meets York outclassed their opponents, and in the Glenbard meet our team really turned on the steam.

Some of the runners seen during the season were Captain Owen Dykema, whose mark of 9.53:3 set a record for our cross-country course; Jens Jantzen, a continual first placer; Jack Bales, who was consistently one of the first five; Carl Moeck, a real top-notcher; and Jack Kelley, who was a good runner all year. Kenneth Lichtenheld, who was expected to be one of our best runners this year, had to quit the team because of a bad knee.

Frosh-Soph Cagers Rack Up Good Showings for '47 Season

Under the able leadership of Mr. Gerlach, the Frosh-Soph Heavies came through a fairly good season with six victories out of the twelve games played. Although their scores do not show it, they played good basketball and learned many valuable things which will help them in future years. Some of the outstanding players were Augie Wirkus, Boyd MacKenzie, Byron Kolling, Dick Hartman, and Fred Longnecker.

The Frosh-Soph Lights were coached by Mr. Wilson. They won eight games and lost six during their season, thus assuring themselves the title of a winning team. A few of the outstanding players were Tom Johnson, Earl Jacobson, Ward Casper, and John Barthelmy.

Mr. Pratt's golf team, sparked by lettermen John and Bob Williams, John Hanson and Bob Schawl, tackled a 10 game schedule this year. The linkmen chalked up many a mile of diligent practice out at White Pines in preparation for the eagerly awaited Conference Meet. Experienced golfers from last year's squad welcomed back were, Bob Elworthy, John Collins, Larry Thon, and George Unverzagt.

The York Racketeers, with Mr. Kunze at the helm, will be hitting hard for first place in this year's conference standing. With Bob Adam, Jon Thorwaldson, Dick Stevens, and Roger "Rajah" Steingraber, returning lettermen from last year, to lead the way, York will be a tough team to beat. Added to this high-class material are such up-and-coming members as "Chuck" Cedarholm, Jack Ritter, Jack Thorne, Peter Ernst, George Wright, and George Larkin, a sophomore who really has something on the ball. The district meet will be May 10. On May 23 and 24 the state meet will be held at Urbana. The conference meet will take place on May 26, 27, and 28.

One of the disadvantages of having track stories in a yearbook is that the deadline for stories comes before the track season is over; in fact, this is being written on opening day of the outdoor season.

Thus far, York has captured most of the dual and triangular meets in which it has participated. In the Naperville Relays, the Eastmen tied for second place with Riverside, while Maine took over the number-one spot. Next week, on March 29, York participates in the famed Oak Park Relays, which is one of the largest prep-school indoor track meets in the state.

The York thinclads are again under the able guidance of Coach East, who is now in his twenty-sixth year here. He is assisted by "Steve" Stefani, who handles the boys in the field events, specializing in the pole vault.

York's track team is captained by Everett Greinke, a senior, who is one of the Conference's best pole vaulters. Other important members of the squad include Danfelser in shot put, high jump, and pole vault; Turyna, who threw the shot 46' 9" in the Naperville Relays; quartermilers Dykema and Anderson; and halfmilers Bales, Jantzen, Kelley, and Davis. In the dashes are Ken Anderson and Norbert Kraegel, a sophomore. Tiedemann, who was one of the basketball regulars, will soon be sprinting down the track. York's eight-lap relay team is composed of Patterson, Dykema, Ken Anderson, and "Red" Anderson. Bob Patterson does the broadjumping for York.

The team has been well managed by Ken Seeck and Ralph Anderson.

The First Stop on the Road to Progress and Success

Leading off our star attractions is Roger Steingraber, president of the senior class. Roger, an outstanding basketball player, shows his ability not only in athletics, but in his class office as well. Next is Don Brabec, the senior's vice-president. Don, a Thespian, has won acclaim in his many roles on the York stage. Pat Nottingham, secretary of the Class of 1947, is a girl who always wears a smile. Pat has been active in numerous extra-curricular doings. The three girls on the lower row were chosen by vote of their classmates as outstanding members of the class. In alphabetical sequence from left to right, they are Marcella Chant, winner of the D.A.R. good citizenship award and secretary of the Girls' Club; Georgia Dewey, editor of the York-Hi; and friendly Jean McCall, National Honor Society member and school chairman of the Y's Tales staff.

Presenting the Highlights on York's Parade of Stars

First on this page is Dwight Winans, senior class treasurer. Dwight is a letterman in basketball and football. Next is Rogerta Dickinson, leading girl student and valedictorian of the Class of 1947. Rogerta is a member of N.H.S., an outstanding Thespian, and president of the Latin Club. Next to her is mathematical wizard Philip Bacon, top-ranking student among the senior boys. The three gentlemen whose photographs make up the bottom row on this page were selected by vote of the class as outstanding senior boys. From left to right are Art Rohn, outstanding student, a letterman in athletics, member of the National Honor Society, and genial editor of Y's Tales; Philip Thorneycroft, actor extraordinary, president of Thespians, and vice-president of the Historical Society; and Henry Tiedemann, star of football, basketball, and track and co-captain of the football and track teams.

Upper Left: The Senior-Alumni Dance on Christmas week end was the best attended in York history. Many fellows who had been in service the past few years were able to come to an alumni dance for their first time. You'll have to do your own identifying here, but for a start, the couple in the foreground is Lenore Kendig and Duce Meyer. Upper Right: The Senior Play this year was Moliere's The Miser. Philip Thorneycroft, as miserly Harpagon, discusses his marriage contract with match-maker Frosine (Carolyn Dornoff). Bill Larson, standing in center, plays Le Fleche, Harpagon's servant. Lower Left: Taking notes on the proceedings is the Magistrate (Donald Brabec). Harpagon questions the identity of Monsieur Anselme, played by James Vollnogle. Watching this scene with bated breath are Marianne (Rogerta Dickinson), Cleante (Kenneth Helms), Frosine, and La Fleche. Lower Right: Frosine, Marianne, and Cleante argue with Harpagon about the various romantic statutes. Backing up Harpagon is Master Simon, known around here as George Orcutt. Also contending with Harpagon are Valere (Jerry Phillea), and Elise (Mary Ann Reulman).

Acknowledgments

The Y's Tales staff wishes to express its appreciation for the cooperation of students and faculty in producing this book. We are fortunate in having the services of excellent commercial firms and are especially indebted to Mr. Leander W. Hagerty, Jr., of the Leander Company; Messrs. Joseph E. Gessner and Emil Feuerstein of the School Division of Gibson Studios; and Mr. Harold Beckett, of the Kingsport Press. The staff wishes also to thank Mr. Gene Gallo for some of the photographs of the 1946 Conference Track Meet, and Mr. J. F. Bobeng for the copy negative used in producing Richard Lithgow's photograph.
